Overview

China's solar industry is teetering on the brink of collapse, hit hard by punitive U. tariffs and a severe domestic supply glut. The crisis stems from a growth model heavily reliant on government subsidies, with little regard for technological preparedness. The situation is severe: China's major solar manufacturers posted combined losses of $2. The sector's total losses reached. However, 2024 has brought immense challenges, with higher interest rates, tighter financing, and adverse policy shifts in key states contributing to over 100 solar bankruptcies based on our industry data, a number unseen before in our almost 20 years in the solar sector.
