

Price of solar air conditioner in Ireland

Overview

Imagine cutting your air conditioning costs by up to 70% while reducing your carbon footprint—that's the promise of hybrid solar air conditioners, and Irish homeowners are already reaping the rewards. For large, inbuilt air conditioning systems, prices start upwards of €2,500, often extending significantly higher, especially for multi-zone or ducted solutions that can reach €5,000 to €15,000+. From portable units to sophisticated multi-split systems, the cost can vary greatly based on factors such as capacity, energy efficiency, and installation requirements. It is a paradoxical system, since what causes high temperatures is also the most sustainable solution for them. Discover top brands like DeLonghi and more.
