

Solar power generation scammed

Overview

We'll walk you through the most common solar scams, the red flags that should make you pump the brakes, and how to find installers you can actually trust. Disclaimer: This article is intended to provide an informational overview of consumer protections for interested homeowners. Did a salesperson knock on your door and promise free rooftop solar panels at no cost to you?

Or say you'll never have to pay another electricity bill because government programs, grants, or rebates cover your solar installation?

It's likely a scam. With that demand comes fierce competition within the solar panel market. People complain that they were deceived about costs and savings, misled about. Many homeowners never get any solar equipment installed; those who do often get shoddy work. The con starts with a fast-talking salesperson offering a "limited time.
